Today I will talk about my week. What I do the entire week. On Mondays I get up early and I go for a run. Afterwards I learn the entire day. I learn languages, I read a book about philosophy, for example. On Tuesday I go playing football. And I go for a walk with my dogs and I work in a language school. I give classes. On Wednesdays I give classes, too and I like to cook in the evening because I got enough time. On Thursdays I go for a run again. And I go for a walk with my dogs. On Fridays I play chess with a good friend. On Saturdays I like to go to the cinema or I like to go to a club, go dancing. And on Sundays I relax. I try to relax and enjoy a free day without work and without any learning or without any stress. And that's my week actually. It's a good week, I like it.
