Hedgehog, can you remember the day we went to the mountains? That was a great day, wasn't it? We went for hiking. And we got up very, very early because the best time to go to the Alps is during the morning. Yeah, we saw the sun rising, that was amazing with all the skyline of the mountains and afterwards we had that huge, huge walk in the Alps. That was really, really nice. We saw a lot of animals and we really enjoyed the fresh air and actually all the sights we had. It was just a really good day. Almost priceless having those moments, you know. I always like to think back to this day. And we had lunch at this cottage. They had wonderful food, really traditional food. And in the evening we were really tired. We already slept in the car, didn't we? Yes...But it was nice. We should do that again. So maybe next month we should go back. Good idea.

You know Hedgehog, can you remember the day we went to the football match? Yeah it was a... epic...an epic football match. It was really great. We went there by train, didn't we? And it took us quite a while to arrive at the stadium. There were a lot of people and... yeah, we actually had to wait quite a while. But it was a great football match. It was a really, really great football match. I really enjoyed watching it. We ate sausages and drunk a lot of beer. Yeah, maybe we drunk a bit too much beer. But just a bit. But we went there by train so...it wasn't a problem. But that was great. And afterwards the party was amazing. So we had a really, really good evening and a good night and I still really like remembering this day. It is one of our memories, isn't it? So we really have a good memory, really had a good day.
