Hello, my name is Francisco and I visit the middle school. I almost like all sports - except soccer, I like a lot American football I like Volleyball, el Basketball, I like a lot of activities and I play American football which is called sand football what is similar but the field is a bit smaller..I...I really like informatics...what are systems, all that kind of stuff for mobile phone and I think about dedicating my future to that. And I have also worked some time in enterprises for applications for cellular phones. And I would like to dedicate myself on that one day..right...bye

Text 4

Hey Hedgehog, do you know one my best friends, Pedro? No? He's very nice. I really like him. He is a really, really cool guy. He lives in Germany. But he is actually Italian. He lives in a small, small town in Bavaria. It is called Landsberg. He is thirty-three years old and he has two little children. He's a good father. He likes art, he likes going out. He likes having coffee in the sun. He likes meeting with his friends. He likes his dog. He has a really, really nice dog. A really beautiful dog. I like the dog, too. He doesn't like nasty people, stupid people, ignorant people. He doesn't like wasting his time. But generally he is a very, very friendly person and I like a lot spending time with him.

Text 5

Hey Hedgehog, do you know my father? Yeah, no you don't. My father is a great guy. He is very, very nice, very, very friendly. His name is Roland. He is 54 years old, I think, or 55. I'm not sure. He lives in Germany in a small, small village. He works at a huge, huge, huge enterprise and is doing engineering stuff. He likes football, he likes cooking. He spends hours in the kitchen, cooking. He likes hiking. They frequently go to the mountains. They live very close to the Alps. And he likes playing pool with his friends. He likes dogs and he likes birds. He doesn't like bad people, dishonest people. He doesn't like lazy people. I think that's basically all. He is a very, very nice guy. I'm very proud of my father.
