

desk and numbers

text

Text 1

Today I need some things for my desk. I need a new notebook. I need a new pencil, too. Not only one pencil, I need like three or four pencils. I write a lot. And I need new rubbers, to erase what I write. And I need a new pencil sharpener. In order to sharpen my pencil. And I need a ruler. I need to measure some distances. What else do I need? Ah...some scissors, to cut. So with all these things I can write, I can draw, I can paint, I can measure, I can calculate, I can erase and I can sharpen. That's quite a variety of activities, isn't it? Pretty good.

Text 2

Hello. Today we talk about the desk. We have a lamp in order to illuminate the desk. We have books. In the books we read and we learn with the books. We have a notebook. With the notebook we make notes. We have a pencil case. In the pencil case we keep pencils, felt pens, for example our rubber or our pencil sharpener. On the sheets we write or draw. With the rucksack we transport our stuff from the desk. With the calculator we calculate. We add, we subtract, we divide or we multiply. With the ruler we can measure distances. With the felt pens we can draw. With the pencil sharpener we can sharpen the pencils and later, after we have written, we can erase the writings with a rubber again.

Text 3

What is this? These are scissors. With scissors one can cut. One cuts paper. What is this? This is a pencil. With a pencil one can write. For sharpening the pencil there is a pencil sharpener. What is this? This is a tape. With a tape one can tape something. What is this? This is a felt pen. With a felt pen one can paint. What is this? This is a book. In a book one can read. And what is this? This is a notebook. In a notebook one makes notes.

Text 4

What do you do with these things? With the lamp you illuminate your desk. With the rubber you erase. With the pencil sharpener you sharpen the pencil. With the felt pen you paint. With the ruler you measure a distance. With the calculator you calculate. With the rucksack you transport your stuff. On the sheets you write. With the pencil you draw. In the pencil case you keep your things. On the notebook you write and you make notes and in the books you read and you learn with the books.

Text 5

Today we talk about the desk. We have a lamp. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine books, a notebook, a pencil case, three sheets of paper, one, two, three, four, five pencils, a rucksack, a calculator, two, one, three, three, point, four, a ruler, from one to eight centimeters. We have here felt pens, one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight felt pens, three pencil-sharpeners and three rubbers.