

The weather texts

Text 1

Good evening ladies and gentleman, today I want to present you the weather forecast from last week. Last week we had on Monday very unpleasant weather. Thunderstorms and it rained. It was around 15 degrees Celsius and we had weak winds. On Tuesday we had a very, very nice day. The sun shone and we had 29 degrees, so it was a perfect day to stay outside and spend the afternoon in the park. On Wednesday it was half of the day cloudy and half of the day sunny. Temperatures weren't that high as on Tuesday but also very pleasant. On Thursday we had a very cloudy day, so it was a good day for work. On Friday we had like a very dangerous day with a huge tornado outside, although very sunny but the day was very windy. On Saturday, due to the event of a tornado on Friday it got very cold. There was...very, very heavy snowfalls and on Sunday it was very sunny but also it was very cold. It was about - 15 degrees. There was a huge, huge climate shock obviously here after the tornado and temperatures fell down to very, very low degrees. Thank you for watching to day and I hope I see you next week for our weather forecast of the past week. Thank you very much.

Text 2

Good evening Ladies and Gentleman, today I will present to you the weather forecast for this week. On Monday it will be very, very rainy. There will be huge thunderstorms and we have strong rain showers. It will be around 15 degrees and there will be weak winds. On Tuesday it will be very sunny, so go outside, spend the afternoon outside with your family in the park, have a picnic. It will be 29 degrees Celsius and it will be very, very weak winds. On Wednesday it will be half of the day cloudy and half of the day sunny. It will be a very pleasant day with 21 degrees Celsius and winds getting stronger about 40 km/h. On Thursday it will be most of the day cloudy. We will have 13 degrees Celsius and we will have 80 km/h winds. Winds are getting stronger because on Friday we are expecting a tornado. We are expecting a lot of sun but also a tornado, so stay at home, stay safe and don't go outside. The tornado is too dangerous to leave home. On Saturday, provoked by the tornado, the entire weather will change. We will have -2 degrees, snowfalls, very, very low temperatures, so stay calm, get cosy and stay in front of your chimney. On Sunday it will be sunny again, but due to the bad weather the days before it will be -15 degrees, it will be very cold. Stay at home, get cozy, just enjoy the day with your family in front of the chimney and stay safe until next week when we will see us again for the next weather forecast. Thank you.